New Regulations Will Mean New Plan for Elimination Meets

New York, May 22.—Another United States delegate to the International Athletic Federation and International Olympic Games Congress sails for France today in the person of James E. Sullivan, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union. According to Mr. Sullivan the A. A. U. will be represented at the International Athletic Federation meeting June 4, and following days, and the American Olympic Committee by twice that number of delegates at the Olympic Games Congress at Paris, June 12. These conferences, which are those of separate and distinct organizations, have a direct bearing, however, on the future of all Olympic and international track and field sports. One of the principal features of the I. A. U. schedule is the completion of an Olympic Games program, which the Federation hopes the Olympic congress will adopt or at least incorporate in its program for the 1915 games at Berlin.

Commenting on this feature of the work, Secretary Sullivan said: "Under the proposed plans it will not be possible to enter more than 50 per cent. of the athletes who competed in multiple games of the past for this country. This means that we will have to hold more elimination meets than in other years and reduce the American team of 1914 to the very cream of our track and field talent."

"The reduction in the size of the team will also require a change in the methods of conducting the eliminations. In place of the meets held in various parts of the country, followed by the selection of the team by a committee it will be necessary to hold preliminary tryouts in various sections of the states to be followed by a final meet, at say the Harvard stadium, in which the winners and second men at each preliminary shall compete in the finals. In the final tryout the first few men in each Olympic event would make the team and sail from New York or Boston within two or three days after the games at Cambridge. This method will give us the very best performers in the states and will be fair to all, for since we cannot enter but a fraction of the number who competed in former Olympic meets it is necessary to follow that we must select those who prove beyond doubt their right to be on the team."

ENGLISH POLO TEAM EN ROUTE

Challenging Four Sails for America Today. Both Teams Weaker

New York, May 22.—With the sailing of the English polo team for this country today the American polo authorities will be relieved of anxiety regarding a situation which at times promised to develop a fiasco in the first of the international team contests of the present season of sport. Less than ten days ago it appeared as though the match was to fall through, owing to the inability of Lord Wimborne to secure a representative team to compete for the cup challenged for by the Hurlingham club. Great pressure was brought to bear upon the faction whose petty bickerings threatened to disrupt the team and the party which sails today includes the following players and substitutes: Captain H. A. Tomkinson, No. 1; Major T. Y. D. Bingham, No. 2; Major P. W. Barrett, No. 3, and Captain Leslie St. C. Cheape back, with Major H. H. Mathews-Lanowe, and Baron Wimborne as substitutes.

While this team is admittedly not the best combination in England, having been repeatedly defeated by Walter S. Backmaster's four in practice games, it includes players who are ranked with the leaders of English polo. Experts maintain that it is as strong as the English team of 1912 and the same contention is held when the American teams of 1912 and 1914 are compared. There is no denying the fact that the withdrawal from active play of Captain Harry Payne Whitney weakened the Meadowbrook four. Broadly speaking, both English and American teams as outlined at present appear to be 30 per cent. weaker than was the case last June, when the United States team won by 10-12 to 7-14 in two straight games.

demand speedy completion of stadiums when contracts are let. The case of the Princeton and Yale stadiums now in course of construction are examples in point. Princeton authorities are using every effort to secure the completion of the Palmer Memorial Stadium in time for the game with Yale, which is set for Saturday, November 14.

The same situation prevails at New Haven where the Yale committee is working the contracting force from daylight to dusk in order that the Yale Bowl may be finished in time to accommodate the fifty odd thousand spectators who are expected to gather for the Harvard-Yale game on Saturday, November 21. Those in charge of the work hope, however, to have the sunken amphitheatre ready by the middle of November as will be seen from the following statement issued on the subject.

"It is estimated that the embankment will be up and complete in about thirty days from May 1. The question of providing for the spectators at the Harvard game next fall is still a matter of some perplexity, but we expect to be all ready for the game."

MUNICIPAL BASEBALL.

City of Calgary, Manitoba Donates Land For Park.
Calgary, Alta., May 22.—Baseball in western Canada is more of a municipal affair than anywhere in the United States. The city of Calgary, located a plot of land in Victoria park for use as a baseball field. The ball club is run by the leading business men of the town, who show a spirit that puts to shame that of many of the baseball magnates across the border.

The Western Canada baseball league has a class C rating in organized baseball, but is allowed a class B salary limit—$1,500 a month for fourteen men. According to the Dominion census of 1910 the league's population was insufficient to secure a B rating, but since 1910 nearly all the cities have doubled in population, hence the exception.

It is a novelty to hear the natives speak of the ball game. "This evening," but evening it is, for the games are not called until after 5 o'clock. Take Calgary, for instance. On opening day, May 4, the game was started at 4:30 p. m. Every day since then 5:45 is official "play ball" time, and as it is still early in the season and the ball games are not so snappy and full of life as later, it is often a shock when the last batter is called out. During June, July and August the games are started at 6:20 p. m., and it is possible to finish extra inning games, as it remains light enough to play up to 10 o'clock in a host of sports. In the summer baseball, cricket, tennis, soccer, lacrosse, golf and swimming build away and each has a following all its own. Almost every able bodied man is an active performer in some branch of sport, and the result is a body of well conditioned men. Boxing is dead, forbidden since the day Arthur Pelkey knocked out Luther McCarthy.

FITCHING MUST WIN NATIONAL LEAGUE'S PENNANT THIS YEAR.

They say it will be pitching on which the National league pennant must finally be decided. McGraw is better equipped than Clark in hurling. New York has the "Big Four" Mathewson, Marquard, Tebeau and Demaree, with a good relief hurler in Art Fromme. So far Pittsburgh has had first class pitching from both two men, M. Quillen and Adams. Robinson, a good southpaw, is now with the Cardinals. Hendrix has shipped to the Federals and Harmon and Cuccinelli have shown nothing to speak of.

CLEVELAND 'DROME IS CLOSED BECAUSE OF MANY ACCIDENTS.

Cleveland, O., May 22.—Because of an accident in a race at the motors drome at Land park, in which three racers and two spectators were injured, the officials of the park announced that the motors drome would be closed permanently.

F. M. Walker's machine collided with John Haysin and Roy Miller. All were hurt badly. Last season several accidents happened in races at the motors drome, some fatal.
